MACBETH AND KING LEAR

By Mrs Jessie K. Curtis

Lectures 1-5

MACBETH: ITS MODERN PARALLELS; FAUST AND THE MAGIC SKIN

Shakspeare made dramatic poetry in general the poetical reflex of the world's history.—Dr Herman Ulrici

Shakspeare has widened my own existence to infinity.—Goethe

All the German poets have cast their vote into the urn and declared Shakspeare the emperor.—Heine

The highest glory of Shakspeare's poetry is its spirituality.—Henry Reed

The name of Shakspeare is the greatest in our literature, the greatest in any literature.—Hallam

The myriad-minded Shakspeare.

The greatest intellect, who, in our recorded world, has left record of himself in the way of literature.—Carlyle

The Englishman, who without reverence, a proud and affectionate reverence, can utter the name of William Shakspeare, stands disqualified for the office of critic.—Coleridge

Definitions

- 1 Tragedy is a play of the passions ending in catastrophe.
- 2 Comedy is a play of feeling or fancy ending in mediation.
- 3 Historical drama is a view of national life within the pale of authentic history. "A succession of incidents" becomes a "combination of events." Personage is changed to personality. Facts become truths. The past is put into the present.

- 4 Passion is high-wrought feeling filled and thrilled with thought. It is of the soul and must not be confounded with appetite, which is of the body. Shakspeare deals with passions, never appetites.

The four greatest tragedies of Shakspeare are Lear, Macbeth, Hamlet and Othello.

Othello is the most tragic and tender; Hamlet is finest-wrought, the silken threads of thought shimmer over the entire drama; Lear is the most masterly and magnificent; while Macbeth shows more than any other, the power of woman in making or marring the destiny of man.

MACBETH

What the Sistine Madonna was to Raphael, Macbeth was to Shakspeare, that kind of impromptu which comes from perfectly-disciplined powers. It is a specimen of Shakspeare's unelaborated works in their full maturity.—Richard Grant White

Macbeth is done upon a stronger, a more systematic principle of contrast than any other of Shakspeare's plays.—Hazlitt

In the grandeur of tragedy, Macbeth has no parallel except in Prometheus and the furies of the Attic stage.

Macbeth, the most awful creation of the poetic mind.—Bucknill

Macbeth is the tragedy of terror, terror in the imaginative presence of wicked temptations and of a fearful career of guilt.—Henry Reed

- 1 Give dates of writing this drama and reasons for this date.
- 2 What two stories were used for this play?
- 3 What changes were made in them and why?
- 4 What passions make the drama of Macbeth?
- 5 Is any passion unrelated to other passions in Shakspeare?

Lecture 1

TEMPTATION

Act 1

I have tempted the devil and he has come to me.— John Bunyan

Life's business being the terrible choice.

Why comes temptation, but for man to meet

And master and make crouch beneath his foot,

And so be pedestaled in triumph? — Browning

That which is a necessity to him that struggles, is a choice to him that is willing. — Seneca

- 1 What is Macbeth's first temptation? Give reasons.
- 2 What are the weird sisters?
- 3 How do they compare with the witch of Endor?
- 4 At what epoch do they appear to Macbeth?

- 28 In what respect is it not an ideal?
- 29 Give a quotation from Shakspeare that would make a true marriage.
- 30 Is this play true to Scottish character and scenery?
- 31 Have we any reason for supposing that Shakspeare visited Scotland?
- 32 Does Shakspeare make character change with latitude?
- 33 Give examples.
- 34 What touch of beauty relieves the luridness of this act?
- 35 What feeling influences the reader in act 1?
- 36 Where do we leave Macbeth in act 1?
- 37 With what quotation from Dante could we end act 1?
- 38 What is left to interest the reader?

Lecture 2

THE FALL

Act 2

The curious crime, the fine

Felicity and flower of wickedness.—Browning

The desire of power in excess caused the angels to fall.—

Bacon

Fallen, fallen, fallen, fallen

Fallen, from his high estate.—Dryden

- 1 How is the time of day a portent of coming events?

- 3 What speech of Banquo's becomes further temptation to Macbeth?
- 4 What does it show in Banquo?
- 5 Where are witches in this act?
- 6 How does the analytical and imaginative mind of Macbeth show itself?
- 7 Does the dagger suggest confidence or terror, temptation or retribution?
- 8 How does sin in act 2 differ from sin in act 1?
- 9 What accompaniments to the murder?
- 10 Has history (profane or sacred) any parallel to this?
- 11 Give a similar example from Hawthorne.
- 12 Show the pathos in this act.
- 13 Is it art to thus relieve crime?
- 14 Why does Lady Macbeth need to take wine?
- 15 How does its effect show her nature?
- 16 How does Lady Macbeth show her womanliness?
- 17 How far off is Duncan's room?
- 18 Why does Macbeth bring away the daggers?
- 19 What after effect from Lady Macbeth's carrying back the daggers?
- 20 What does the knocking at the gate personify?
- 21 Is the porter's soliloquy appropriate to this act?
- 22 Where does Macbeth first show his hypocrisy?
- 23 Is this natural to him?
- 24 Why does he describe the dead Duncan so minutely?
- 25 Which is the most far seeing, Lord or Lady Macbeth?
- 26 Is this a difference of sex or character?
- 27 How does the murder of the grooms contrast with the murder of Duncan?
- 28 What change of character has been wrought by crime?
- 29 Why does Lady Macbeth faint?
- 30 Is physical sleep the only meaning to Macbeth's words on sleep?
- 31 What symbolism in the horses of Duncan eating each other?

- 32 How does Banquo proclaim his innocence?
- 33 Is he wholly innocent?
- 34 How do Lord and Lady Macbeth each meet the world?
- 35 How does Donald show his suspicion of the murderer?
- 36 Why is the old man introduced into the last scene?
- 37 How do some rank act 2?
- 38 What feeling is awakened by act 2?

Lecture 3

THE SELF PROPAGATING POWER OF SIN

Act 3

Proverbs 5: 22. 2 Timothy 3: 13.

In the greatness of his folly he shall go astray.

All that is human must retrograde if it do not advance.—

Gibbon

Lord of himself, that heritage of woe.— Byron

Then do men's lives become one vast disease.— Sophocles

Give ample room and verge enough,

The characters of hell to trace.— Gray

He who is bent on evil can never want occasion.— Publius

Syrus

Tremble thou wretch,

Thou hast within thee undivulged crimes,

Unwhipped of justice.— Shakspeare

- 1 Give three reasons Macbeth would have for the murder of Banquo.
- 2 Does Lady Macbeth have any influence in this murder?

- 26 Does evil change its aspect with different people?
- 27 Give arguments for and against Middleton's hand in depicting some of these witch scenes?
- 28 What is the condition of the kingdom in act 3?
- 29 Who is responsible for this?
- 30 Does crime simply curse the criminal?
- 31 Why should Lennox be suspicious of Macbeth?
- 32 What feeling influences the reader in act 3?

Lecture 4

DESTINY BECOMES DOOM, OR EVIL ITS OWN PUNISHMENT

Act 4

No man of woman born,

Coward or brave, can shun his destiny.— Bryant's Iliad

No man has learned any thing rightly, until he learns that every day is doomsday.— Emerson

Seek not to know to-morrow's doom.— Congreve's Horace

Fate steals along with silent thread,

Found oftenest in what least we dread.

Lecture 5

RETRIBUTION

Act 5

Matthew 7: 2.

Lost, I am lost, my fates have doomed my death.—Ford
And sitting on her throne sublime,

The vials of her wrath with justice stored.—Percival

Though the mills of God grind slowly, yet they grind exceeding small,

Though with patience he stands waiting, with exactness grinds he all.—Fredrich von Logau

Which way shall I fly,

Infinite wrath and infinite despair,

Which way I fly is hell ; myself am hell.—Milton
